Product Benefits

Payforce's Remuneration Module covers the management of remuneration for employees. An online review process including the calculation of proposed changes and remuneration worksheets for use by line management.

This will enable you to:

- calculate very simple to very complex packages
- use unlimited remuneration items to calculate within a package
- calculate remuneration packages from base salary up or from total cost down
- calculate the total employment cost of a package taking into account the remuneration value of non-cash benefits, FBT and gross up factors
- send salary information to payroll eliminating the need for duplication

Program Objectives

Upon successful completion of this training program, you will be able to:

- create an employee's remuneration package
- import/export remuneration details using excel
- write help messages for each parameter in the remuneration menu
- accurately maintain details about grading a job position
- set up a range of salary midpoints within a particular grade structure
- establish a remuneration record
- enter the flexible components of an employee's remuneration package
- maintain an employee's remuneration item(s) and their dollar values
- view the total calculated cost of an employee's remuneration package
- perform a remuneration review
- produce remuneration reports
